PREFACE.

IN presenting to the public this volume, containing an explanation of the distribution of that charitable fund, donated to those of the Conemaugh Valley who were made sufferers by the breaking of the South Fork Dam, on Friday, May 31, 1889, it is not the intention of the author to enter into a lengthy discussion regarding the manner in which the money was distributed; merely to furnish an authentic list, giving the names of those who received and those who did not receive benefit from the fund. The author has had free [illegible] to the books of the Board of Inquiry, and can assure [illegible] readers that this is a correct and true copy of all the sworn statements, together with the amount of relief (including cash, houses and furniture) received out of the fund by each individual.

The plan adopted by the Board of Inquiry to ascertain the losses, and to procure the names of those drowned, was to have survivors of each district make a statement as to their losses, both real and personal, also to have them furnish name, age and description of those of their family who had been drowned.

Upon the completion of this, the committee, after weeding out the fraudulent claims (of which they found quite a number) classified those that were honest as follows:

CLASS 1. Under this class were placed widows who had four or more children under sixteen years of age, and whose husbands had been drowned.

CLASS 2. Under this class were placed widows who had less than four children, yet had lost their husbands in the flood.

CLASS 3. Under this class were placed all widows other than those enumeratod in Classes 1 and 2; the old and decrepit and all others, male or female, who had received bodily injury in the flood.

Class 4. Under this class were those who had [illegible] their property in the flood, but were able to work.

Class 5. Under this class were those who were i[illegible] ate circumstances before the flood and lost a part [illegible] property, or who lost all of their property and were yet [illegible] ily employed, and not in immediate want.

Class 6. Under this class were those who, although [illegible] ing lost largely, were still in comparatively good circu[illegible] stances.

To the different classes the Flood Commission directed th[illegible] Board of Inquiry to award at first distribution as follows: To Class 1, $600; Class 2, $400; Class 3, $200; Class 4, $125; Class 5, $80; Class 6, not anything at this distribution; and where the sum lost was less than the amount ordered to be paid, in Class 3 or 4 the Board should be governed by the physical condition and circumstances of the applicant. Upon the completion of the work of classification the Board notified all of those in the different classes, that were entitled to aid, to come and receive an order on the Commission for the amount awarded. Upon the presentation of this order to the Commission's representative, Judge Cummin, he directed them to fill out and swear to their physical condition at that time, and the amount of loss sustained, and when they returned the sworn statement he gave them a check on the banker for the amount contained in the order of the Board of Inquiry.

The sworn statement was then turned over to the Board of Inquiry, classified and regularly entered on their books, an account opened with each applicant, and then returned to the Commission ready for the final distribution, which was made by Secretary J. B. Kremer, under rules adopted by the Flood Commission, as follows: In losses in Class 4 of $500 or less, a sum shall be paid not exceeding $400; on losses of $1,000 and over $500, a sum not exceeding $600; on losses of $2,000 and over $1,000, a sum not exceeding $8,00; losses over $2,000 shall be paid a pro rata of the amount appropriated to the class remaining after payment had been made on the recommended basis, but no payment shall exceed $6,000. In Class 5, losses as established by the Board of Inquiry of $500 or less shall be paid a sum not to exceed $200; losses of $1,000 and over $500, a sum not to exceed $350; losses over $1,000 shall be paid pro rata of the sum appropriated to the class of the amount remaining after the payment of above claims. But no payment shall exceed the sum of $2,500.

The Commission also resolved that, in making payments in these classes, any amount received heretofore by the claimants shall be charged against the payments in this distribution, which resolution was strictly carried out by the Board of Inquiry.

The Commission directed that Class 1 should receive $1,000; Class 2, $800; Class 3, $,500; and all orphans, made so by the flood, should receive $50 a year until they arrive at the age of sixteen.

The Flood Relief Commission, through their Secretary, aimed to make as equitable a distribution as possibly could be made by persons not familiar with the sufferers in the valley. There has, no doubt, been mistakes made, but they are comparatively few and were not made intentionally.

The amount of money received by the Commission from the thousands, who in their charity contributed to relieve the sufferers, does not appear on the books of the Board, nor does the thousands of dollars taken from the fund to be appropriated to other purposes show up, as the Board of Inquiry have no account of any moneys, except what went directly to the people.
